

"RIM OF THE WORLD" BECOMES WHOLESALE

L. T. ROWLEY TAKES SCENIC ROUTE AND IS ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT WHAT HE SAW

L. T. Rowley of this city was a guest at a meeting of the Southern California Association of Commercial Secretaries called at San Bernardino Saturday where arrangements had been made by the Chamber of Commerce of that city to take the entire party on a trip around "The Rim of the World." The local secretary, Mr. Rowley, who for many years has had charge of the San Bernardino Orange Show, presided at the meeting, and explained the plan for the excursion. In describing the trip Mr. Rowley said:

"We had luncheon at Hotel Stewart and left about two o'clock by stage, visiting different points of interest along the road—the city playgrounds, Squirrel Inn, etc.—and arrived about 6 o'clock at Pine Crest Tavern, which is a very beautiful piece of work. The proprietor is a man who really loves nature and is very artistic in designing his buildings, which are of timber, and all the ceilings of the different rooms in the tavern are of logs. In the dining room, which is circular in shape, is an immense fireplace in the shape of a great bell in the center of the room, the chimney rising through the roof and from this radiate large beams running to the sides of the house. Around the walls are arranged unique adornments exactly suited to the surroundings. Of the work of that sort I have seen, the work at Pine Crest is by far the finest."

"We had our dinner there and in the evening around a great bonfire and music and stories and some talks of old timers in regard to the mountains and what has been done to bring about the present conditions."

"Soon after arriving I met Louis Kellar, a nephew of Mrs. Rowley, who is a fine drummer and jazz leader and who has been engaged to play at Pine Crest all summer. He told me that his father and mother were at the Little Bear Lake and were going to the family reunion at Downey, so after breakfasting with the party and taking a walk, I joined them and went to Downey."

"From what I saw along the 'Rim of the World' I believe a great many people are enticed from home to the place to see something that is not nearly so fine as what we have right here. Representatives of those northern playgrounds come down here (Continued on Page 3)

PLEASANT CALL OF DUTY

Mr. and Mrs. B. Klein of this city are in receipt of a letter from their daughter, Mrs. Mitchell Frug, dated at Camp Lewis, June 25th, stating that the army auditor who has been checking up the work of her husband at that point had just advised him that he had been ordered to go to Washington in about a month to complete his work there at a salary of $370 a month. Mrs. Frug of course goes with him and states that they will be permitted to stop along the route and make a brief stay in San Francisco, to come by way of Los Angeles and see their relatives here, and to stop in Kansas City, Paducah, Hopkinsville and Cincinnati, and, as she says: "All free. Of course, we would have to see some of the places going and coming home, but isn't it grand? We never could afford it for years and years and here it is."

NEWS FROM THE CONGO

PEOPLE WELL KNOWN IN GLENDALE WRITE OF MISSIONARY EXPERIENCES

There were read in the Central Christian Church Sunday morning extracts from recent letters from the Congo which are of interest to many Glendale people. One of the writers, A. F. Hensley, has spoken in Glendale and is known to several of our people. E. R. Moon and wife were in Glendale twice last year, delivering addresses in the Christian Church on missionary experiences in the Congo country and made many warm friends. Another and better known member of the group is Mrs. Evelyn Uter Pearson, who lived in Glendale five years and has many friends here, not only in the Christian Church, but in other congregations as well. Briefly stated, the communications are as follows:

At Bolonge, the main station, where there are about 2500 people, there were 400 cases of influenza, with 62 deaths, and there were many cases at out-stations. The total losses in all the stations were above 500. Still it was a good year. There were 313 baptisms and the na-

LEROY W. BOSSERMAN GIVES UP RETAIL STORE TO PUSH EASTERN FACTORY PRODUCTS

When interviewed in regard to the sale of his hardware business to W. Tompkins, Le Roy W. Bosserman stated he was making the deal in order to secure more time to develop a wholesale business which he has been carrying on as the Pacific Coast representative of his brother, manufacturer of perambulators and go-carts. His trade is increasing at a rate which makes it necessary to give more personal time to it. His present warehouse is in Glendale and he may decide to establish his permanent headquarters here. The factory where the goods are made is in the east and Mr. Bosserman will probably visit it in the near future and spend a month or more in Indiana.

O. C. LANE SURPRISED

O. C. Lane, of Burbank, with the assistance of his wife, delightfully surprised his father, O. C. Lane, of Glendale, with a family dinner party in celebration of his 65th birthday, Sunday, June 29th.

The table was loaded with good things to eat and after the first and most substantial courses had been served the hostess brought in a beautiful chocolate cake on which was printed the word "Grandpa" and the figures "65." The cake was made by his grand-daughter, Mary. Following this appetite-whetting delicacy was another birthday cake bearing 65 lighted candles, and then the cakes were cut and served with ice cream. Those present were O. C. Lane, guest of honor, and his wife, Mrs. S. J. Lane his mother, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lane and son of 209 E. Chestnut street, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Berry of 329 Lomita avenue, all of Glendale, the host and hostess and family and Miss Virginia Baker of Burbank.

DEATH OF ELIZABETH SHIVERY

Mrs. Elizabeth Shivery passed away June 29th at her late home, 1419 South Glendale avenue. She leaves to mourn her loss a daughter, Mrs. C. C. Stillman, living at the same address.

Funeral services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Cemetery, July 2d, at 4 p. m., with the L. G. Scovern Co. in charge.

SALESMAN 33 YEARS

QUITS PIANO AGENCY TO RE-CUPERATE HEALTH IN THE OPEN

The Elks' Lodge entertained a guest and Brother Elk last evening, who is some entertainer himself. He can coax more music out of a piano than one would imagine possible and can imitate a violin and several other instruments so faithfully that one can hardly believe such music can be developed from piano keys. The name of this guest is W. J. Carkeek and he has been a piano salesman and manager of large piano houses for 33 years. He was with the music department at Wanamaker's big store in Philadelphia one year, was assistant manager of the Sterling Piano Co. at Brooklyn, New York for eight years, held a like position for the Eilers Music Co. in Boise, Idaho, where he joined Elks' Lodge, No. 310. For the past six years he was in charge of a big piano house in Portland, Oregon, quitting it finally on account of a breakdown in health. He decided to take a lengthy vacation and live in the open, so he secured the place at 1232 East California avenue, where there is plenty of ground, lots of fruit and pure air. He has about 500 chickens and these keep him busy a good part of his time. And he is an interested reader of the Glendale Evening News. The Elks hope he will not let those magic fingers of his get stiff with their outdoor work, for they anticipate much enjoyment from his great musical talent, so genially and delightfully exercised.

DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION MEETING

SALOON KEEPERS DEFY LAW

U. S. DISTRICT JUDGE ROSE AT BALTIMORE RULES TWO AND THREE-FOURTHS PER CENT BEER IS NOT INTOXICATING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—United States District Judge Rose today quashed an indictment against the Standard Brewing company charged with the violation of the prohibition act by brewing 2 3-4 per cent beer. The decision may mean the continuation of the sale of 2 3-4 per cent beer as non-intoxicating, as the Attorney General had previously announced that the question would rest on the decision of the Baltimore case.

The statements issued by Attorney General Palmer before the Baltimore decision was rendered, declared that liquor dealers selling 2 3-4 per cent beer today would be liable to arrest but added that he did not intend to order wholesale arrests until he had secured "an authoritative decision as to what constitutes intoxicating beer."

Reports received here today show that saloons in many cities, notably in New York and Chicago are remaining open for the sale of beer and light wines and in some instances stronger liquors are being sold. The New York Retail Liquor Dealers' association declared that practically every saloon remained open, and the conditions in Chicago were very similar.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—President Wilson will speak either in Carnegie hall or in the Metropolitan Opera house, New York, immediately following his arrival. It is expected that his address will mark the opening of his campaign for the ratification of the League of Nations and the peace treaty. It is not expected that he will make any vital revelations, those being reserved for his address before Congress.

ANTI-AMERICAN PROPAGANDA IN BRAZIL

A FOUR-MONTHS' CAMPAIGN BROKEN BY DECLARATIONS FRIENDLY TO U. S. BY PRESIDENT-ELECT PESSOA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 1.—Four months of anti-American propaganda in Brazil has been broken by the statement of President-elect Pessoa disapproving the propaganda and declaring that it does not represent the feeling of Brazilians. The reaction has already started. Today's issue of "De Commercio" for the first time in four months carried no anti-American advertising. "Fan-Fulla," the leading Italian newspaper in South America made a statement to the United Press to the effect that Italians still entertain kindly feelings for the United States but blame President Wilson for his attitude toward the Italian peace claims. The statement declared that President Wilson had not dared to contest England's dominion of the seas, her possession of Gibraltar or the Suez canal, but that he was deaf to the appeals of Egypt and renounced his earlier principles regarding the retention of German colonies; that he yielded to France's desire to annex the Saar valley, allowed the rape of Danzig, permitted the usurpation of Kiao Chau by Japan, and "then denied the right of the population of Fiume to decide its destiny." The Italians have headed the anti-American propaganda.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT IN NEW YORK

EIGHT KILLED—FIFTEEN INJURED IN REAR-END COLLISION OF NEW YORK CENTRAL TRAINS

NEW YORK, July 1.—Eight persons were killed and fifteen were injured in a rear-end collision between two New York Central passenger trains at Dunkirk station.

FINAL REPORT

SUMMARY OF WORK OF GLENDALE RED CROSS CHAPTER FOR NATIONAL ARCHIVES

In obedience to the request of the National organization, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett as chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter has forwarded to the headquarters of the Pacific Division a summary of its work from the organization date in March, 1917, to June 1, 1919, with a list of officers and chairmen who served during that period, and brief comment on their place in the community as instructed.

Following is a copy of the report as forwarded. It should be of interest to the hundreds of workers who faithfully labored for the cause around the surgical dressings tables, in the hospital garments department, at home with their knitting needles, or in other departments of work. Mrs. Bartlett greatly regrets that for obvious reasons she is unable to give the full list of chapter workers. It is a long list and one highly creditable to Glendale and the chapter.

Rev. C. Irving Mills, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, called upon Mrs. H. E. Bartlett in March, 1917, saying he thought there should be a Red Cross organization in Glendale, and thought if the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club (of which she was president) took it up, it would be a success.

It was presented at the next club meeting, the sentiment was favorable, and speakers were to come from Los Angeles to assist in the organization. Rev. T. F. McCrea, a Baptist missionary, home from China on furlough, also called on Mrs. Bartlett on the same subject, he being a speaker for the Red Cross.

A meeting for conference was arranged for and held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, March, 1917, at which the following persons were present: Mrs. Hutchinson, Pres. P. T. A. Federation; Miss Ina Whitaker, Secy. British Ambulance Society; Rev. E. H. Willisford, pastor of the Congregational Church; Rev. C. Irving Mills, rector of St. Mark's; Rev. V. W. Cowser, pastor of Baptist Church, and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Pres. Tuesday Afternoon Club; also a representative of the work from Los Angeles, Mr. West, organizer. After discussion it was decided to call a mass meeting at the High School to form a Red Cross organization, which was done April 5, 1917. We were a

WILL MAKE LONG AUTO TRIP

Harry E. Hall and wife of 121 West Harvard were intending to start today on their long projected auto trip, but decided to wait until tomorrow so both could vote for the good roads bond issue. They will start early tomorrow morning and travel leisurely, their first objective being Salt Lake City. They will go thence to Yellowstone Park and then on through Montana and North Dakota, visiting the famous Black Hills region. They will then proceed as fancy dictates, but will probably decide to make New York their final objective, unless, perchance, the aerial ferry to Europe is in operation by the time they get there, when they may have their auto loaded on and finish their tour in England. They expect to be back in from two to eight months, Mrs. Hall says.

CHANGING STORE FRONT AT GLENDALE PHARMACY

Baird & Morrison are having the entire front of the Glendale Pharmacy building remodeled. A large show window will extend across the entire front and the entrance will be at the corner, through a single door with a window on either side. This will add greatly to the appearance of the front and to the facilities for displaying the stock. T. H. Addison is the contractor.

BACK IN GLENDALE HOME AFTER YEAR'S ABSENCE

A year ago Scott Caldwell leased his fine home at 317 Myrtle, and, with his wife and two daughters, moved to Twin Falls, Idaho, where many of his wife's people live. He was employed to oversee the construction of a large High School building in Philo seven miles from there and when it was completed and occupied he was hired as instructor in Manual Arts, which position he filled so acceptably that he was offered the position for the coming year, but he wished to look after his Glendale property, so moved back to the city. His tenants moved out last week and he is now in the old home again. He recently bought a lot and will build a house on it.

SCHOOL NOMINATIONS

TRUSTEES OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS ELECT SEVERAL TEACHERS FOR COMING YEAR

Several teachers have been elected by the Board of Trustees of Elementary Schools to fill vacancies for the coming year, but it is not certain that all will accept the appointments. Indeed one, Edwin J. Sadler, son of Mrs. Helen Sadler, recently returned from army service in France, has already declined the appointment saying he can make more money in some other line of work.

Miss Iva F. Hunter has been elected as teacher in the Intermediate School. It will be remembered that she was formerly an instructor in the Glendale Schools and obtained a leave of absence for three years to attend Stanford University, from which she has now been graduated with the degree of Master of Arts.

The Board has also elected Mrs. S. J. Reynolds, who has long been a resident of Glendale and active in the Parent-Teacher Associations. She is the mother of two sons, one of whom is in the High School, the other in the grade schools. She has recently been graduated from the Los Angeles Normal School.

Lieut. Norman Whytock, son of Dr. Joseph Whytock of 411 North Jackson street, has been elected supervisor of physical training for the elementary schools of Glendale. His work as a teacher previous to his entry into the army is well known and he has a great many friends here. He is not certain that he will not prefer newspaper work as he has had quite a flattering offer in that line, but he will make up his mind very soon and advise the board.

MRS. R. M. JACKSON'S BROTHER ORDERED TO FRANCE

Mrs. R. M. Jackson received a letter Sunday from her brother, Lt. Col. Ewell, of the Regular Army, stating that he had just been ordered to France. He has been at Joplin, Mo. He did not know the reason of the sudden order. It was for him to proceed at once to New York City and prepare for embarkation. He was very anxious to get into the fighting, but was held at different home camps all through the war by urgent duties. Col. Ewell expects to have his wife come to California and buy a home for them. Mrs. Jackson hopes she will choose Glendale as the location.

M. J. MCGREW AGAIN AT PLACE OF BUSINESS

M. J. McGrew, of the Broadway Garage, was found yesterday by an Evening News reporter limping around in his place of business with the aid of a cane and carrying his right arm in a sling, all as the result of falling from a high stepladder and landing on a concrete floor a few days ago. He was able to announce, however, that he has taken the agency for a mighty fine car, the Velie, which he can deliver as ordered just at present.

MARGERY GENEVIEVE LOWE

A wonderfully welcome little girl was born Monday, June 30, 1918, about midnight, into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Lowe at the Hawthorne Apartments. She has been named Margery Genevieve and is the first grand-daughter in a family in which there are six or seven grandsons to carry down the name Lowe.

PUPILS' RECITAL

STUDENTS WHO HAVE BEEN UNDER INSTRUCTION OF MISS CHAMPLAIN GIVE PROGRAM

An audience of about one hundred appreciative listeners gathered at the Masonic Temple Saturday night for a recital by pupils of Miss Gertrude Champlain, who ranged in age from seven to fifteen years, and who did highly creditable work. It was of interest not only because of its demonstration of her powers as an instructor, but also as proof of the talent and application of the pupils, who interpreted their numbers with excellent technique and intelligence.

Those participating in the program were: Marian Cummings, Harold Cummings, Mary Adelaide Nisbit, Preston Hanning, Elizabeth Sawyer, Luella Myton, Dallas Kalbaugh, Ellen Myton, Leona Hunt, Luella Myton, Velma Pearce, Ellen Myton, Ella Christensen, Margaret Longley, Helen Mallory, Anna Smith, Roma Staub, Winifred Parker, Gladys Woodyard, Evelyn Horning, Cleo Redd, Margaret Fenton, Katherine Delgado, Cethil Mallory.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, JULY 1, 1919

TEMPERANCE IN EATING

(By W. B. Kirk)

As an insurance man, I am interested in the health of the community and especially of the men of family and responsibility in that community. If life-insurance companies could, by sound advice as to diet and habits of life, prolong the average length of life for even one year, it would be a great saving to them and their policyholders.

As a solicitor, with a large responsibility for the character of the risks I present to the Co., I am vitally interested in both the physical and moral condition of every applicant I present to the Co. This is so, not only because the Co. looks to me for the larger part of the information which has to do with the acceptance of the risk, but because the insuring of the wrong or doubtful kind will lead inevitably to a high mortality, smaller dividends, and thus to increased cost and general dissatisfaction of the policyholders.

For this reason I am frequently restrained from soliciting men for insurance whom I personally like immensely and who would be exactly the type desired by the Co. if we could feel that by insuring them, we could do full justice to our policyholders, on the law of average.

The absolute prohibition of the use of liquor on and after July 1st will undoubtedly be productive of a lessened mortality, because the use of alcohol, even in the smallest amounts, has a weakening effect upon both the heart and kidneys—the two vital organs of the body, and if this can be followed up by a system of education in diet and the great necessity of temperance in eating, we may expect a very radical revision in the mortality tables and a consequent lowering of insurance cost. All students of the subject agree that over-eating and wrong combinations of food are the largest factors in the clogging of the system and the production of disease, and all branches of healing are giving more attention to the matter of diet each year. The tendency toward adipose, in middle life, is the greatest bugbear which the life insurance man has to face and it is becoming increasingly harder to put through cases of over-weights, even though the vital organs are all pronounced normal. As soon as the waist-line begins to approximate the chest-measurement, a man should realize that it is time to curb the appetite for "oats" as well as for drinks and that, if he wants to live to be old he must do so, at least to some extent.

Frequently, when I warn a man to this effect, he denies over-eating, says he is a light eater and has largely cut out the fats, starches and sweets but when I watch such a man at the table, it is very rarely that I find this to be the case.

It is also true that many men who overeat do not take on flesh, but when examined for insurance such cases are frequently found to have high blood pressure, leakage of the heart, albumen or "sugar." The best proof that these things are brought on by over-indulgence in eating is the fact that, when the doctor is consulted as to what course to pursue in order to overcome this condition his first advice is in regard to the diet.

Insufficient exercise is another cause of the troubles in over-weights and, undoubtedly, a nation-wide education in that matter would be a very wise undertaking for the life insurance companies.

A very remarkable mortality experience is that of the New York Life Insurance company in Germany during the period of the war. With 300 to 400 millions of insurance in force in that country, this company during the eleven years from 1902 to 1913 sustained death losses of 107 per cent, according to its table of mortality. While the war was on, from 1914 to 1918, their death loss was only 95 per cent, a decrease of 12 per cent. The chief actuary of the company, in suggesting an explanation of this strange condition says, "it is possible that this has been the result of restriction in diet, limitation in the consumption of alcoholic beverages, and the large amount of exercise which the Germans in middle-life, the bulk of our insured, have had to stand." This explanation, to my mind, is the true one, without any question, and should be a very valuable lesson to every thinking individual.

WHAT A SLAUGHTER THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN

It is now charged that the recent German government headed by Philip Scheidemann had planned to refuse point-blank to sign the peace terms, thus ending the armistice, and when the allied armies should have reached the Elbe river on their campaign of invasion which would surely follow such action, attack them by heavy German armies, advantageously placed. Only jealousies and differences of opinion between the government and army leaders prevented the carrying out of the plot, it is said. But it is probable that if such a scheme had been carried out by the Germans they would have met with the surprise of their lives. Allied air patrols would have easily located the German forces before any attack on the allied armies was possible, and they would have been scattered to the four winds by death-dealing bombs. It is very probable that many officers and soldiers of the allied armies would have welcomed such a chance as that would have been to annihilate the Huns.

TO HAVE ARMY OF 325,000

Secretary of War Baker asked for and vehemently urged the necessity of a standing army of 509,000 men. The Senate proposed 400,000, the House 300,000. The conferees of the two houses have finally agreed upon 325,000 as the proper size for the 1920 army. It is held that America so hates war that her people will not tolerate a large standing army. She has proved her ability to produce, with very little training as compared with European ideas, the most formidable army of fighters in the world, whenever the necessity arises, hence why spend the men and money demanded by a large standing army, is the argument advanced. This may hold good if we but take to heart the lesson of the world war and begin preparing in the future at the first hint of probable conflict.

DOMINION OF CANADA FIFTY-TWO YEARS OLD

Canada is 52 years old as a dominion stretching from sea to sea and from the United States to the Arctic Ocean, and she is celebrating the anniversary this week. With almost as large an area as the United States, her population is less than one-tenth as great. She has always been intensely loyal to the mother-country, as she showed during the world-war, pouring out her men and money without stint.

SOME COINCIDENCES OF THE WORLD WAR

The armistice went into effect, it will be remembered, at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. The peace treaty was signed exactly five years from the very day of the assassination of the Austrian archduke which brought on the war. One correspondent remembered that Germany was forty years preparing for the war, but the just peace terms, which so humiliated her were signed in forty minutes.

MORE SECRET TREATIES

Some correspondent in Europe claims to have seen a copy of a proposed treaty between Germany and Japan, to include Russia later, whereby the two nations first named were to combine their forces to wipe England and America off the map, then crush France and Italy. Only the unexpected collapse of the German armies last fall prevented the consummation of this treacherous pact, the correspondent declares.

CALIFORNIA WILL WELCOME PRESIDENT

President Wilson is said to be planning to live in California after his term of office expires. His home will be on the heights overlooking Santa Barbara, where W. G. McAdoo, his son-in-law, recently bought a 700-acre tract, the story goes, the latter having made the purchase for both. The president's estate will be 165 acres in extent, the land being heavily covered with live oaks. California will welcome Mr. Wilson and will try to not disturb him while he is writing his history of the great war, which project is given as a reason for his retirement in the beautiful spot chosen.

SPENCER ROBINSON'S LIVE STOCK

When asked for news Spencer Robinson reports the purchase of a choice Jersey cow bought from Charley Young about ten days ago. This cow is the offspring of an imported Jersey cow registered as "Frankie's Daughter," for which Mr. Young paid $150 ten years ago in Illinois. Mr. Robinson has been testing the butter-making powers of his cow and reports that last week she produced 21 1/2 pounds of butter, and he thinks he has a treasure. He bought her as a substitute for a goat which had been trained to jump on the kitchen table and of whose activities in that line he tired. Mr. Robinson also reports the possession of two Airedale puppies born in the San Fernando Valley, which he will bring to Glendale as soon as they are old enough to require a license, which he will prefer to pay here. He is still selling real estate in the valley and last week was instrumental in disposing of thirty acres of raw land just south of Pacoima for $375 an acre. It is eligible to the aqueduct water.

with large amounts of money in directing travel that way, but to my mind it would be hard to find anything that would exceed in beauty the surroundings of Pine Crest Tavern or the panorama seen from the 'Rim of the World.' I believe it would be a good piece of propaganda for the people of the Southland to boom that country.

"I have been reading John Muir's books for years and always supposed it would be necessary to go to the high Sierras to see the trees he describes, but I found nearly all of them on the ridges of the San Bernardino Mountains—the silver fir, the yellow and sugar pine, the ponderosa and Coulter pine, and the Douglass spruce in some places. Every foot of the road is a joy.

"From the northern side we looked into Antelope Valley. There are immense masses of rock overhanging the canyons that stand out in a variety of beautiful shapes."

branch of Los Angeles until July 17, 1917, when we became an independent chapter with Glendale as our territory. The following officers served the branch and later, the chapter:

Chairman, John Hyde Braly—Retired capitalist and banker, active also along educational, political and philanthropic lines, served as chairman from time of organization till Nov., 1918, when present chairman, Mrs. Bartlett, was elected.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett has served as president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of three hundred members, and is registrar of the United Daughters of 1812, State of California.

Vice-Chairman—Rev. T. F. McCrea, a Baptist missionary home on furlough from China, a worker for the A. R. C., who created much interest by his enthusiastic speeches, to whom we feel greatly indebted for his valuable services, served from May 23, 1917, to Jan. 2, 1918.

A. L. Lawshe was elected vice-chairman Jan. 2, 1918, serving till June 4, 1919, when he went east for a number of months. Olin Spencer, a library trustee, serving as acting vice-chairman in his absence. Mr. Lawshe was of great assistance to the chapter, having had long experience in business methods, as he served under Presidents Roosevelt and Taft as third assistant postmaster-general. Prior to that he was auditor for the Philippine Islands.

At the annual meeting in Nov., 1918, Ezra Parker, a merchant and former director, was elected vice-chairman and is serving at present.

Secretary—Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, secretary of the local D. A. R. Chapter, and member of the Friday Morning Club of Los Angeles, served as secretary from time of organization to June 4, 1918, when she resigned on account of ill health, having given the chapter untiring service.

Mrs. Harry Duffield, wife of the well-known actor, was then elected, serving until Dec., 1918.

Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., was our third secretary and is the present incumbent. Mrs. White has rendered most efficient service as Chairman of Refreshments Committee, making many occasions more enjoyable by her services.

Treasurer—F. H. Vesper, president of the Bank of Glendale, served to Nov., 1918, when C. D. Lusby, cashier of the Glendale Savings Bank, was elected.

All the work of the chapter has been volunteer work, except that of a cashier, who has been a deputy for the treasurer and secretary. This position has been most ably filled by Miss Minnie Fink and Mrs. R. A. Blackburn, who is serving at present and has given most valuable service to the chapter in many ways.

A Junior Red Cross Society was formed Jan., 1918, which has been very active, but since the influenza little has been done as they were so behind in school work.

At different times membership drives have added largely to our numbers.

Chairmen of Departments

The following chairmen were appointed at the beginning of the work and at different times during the progress of the work:

Chairman of Finance—Frank H. Vesper, president of the Bank of Glendale, serving from April, 1917, until October, 1918, when C. D. Lusby, cashier of the Glendale Savings Bank, was elected and is serving at this time.

Chairman of Membership—Mrs. R. E. Chase, wife of Dr. R. E. Chase, served from April, 1917, until December, 1917, resigning on account of ill health; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, secretary of the chapter, an active member of the D. A. R., was appointed chairman, having charge of the very successful Christmas Membership Drive and serving until May, 1918, when Mrs. R. A. Blackburn was given charge of the membership, continuing to serve until the present time.

Chairman of Purchasing—Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, appointed at the time of organization, continuing to serve as long as her services were needed in that line. At the time of her appointment Mrs. Bartlett was president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and later unanimously elected chairman of the chapter.

Chairman of Hospital Garments—Mrs. W. E. Evans was first chairman, serving for seven months, until Oct., 1917, getting the work well established, resigning on account of ill health.

Mrs. Lawrence Ellis, a member of her committee and secretary of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, was appointed to take up the work, having charge from October, 1917, until September, 1918.

Mrs. Helen Sadler, mother of one of our brave soldier boys, took up the work and carried on in a very successful way until January, 1919, when Mrs. R. P. Jodon, the president of the Ladies' Aid of the Christian Church, was given the work, continuing to serve up to the present time.

Mrs. Jeannette Smith assisted this committee for many months, cutting the garments in preparation for the workers.

Chairman of Knitting—Mrs. Geo. D. Carter, the first chairman serving from April, 1917, until March, 1918, with the band of knitters grown from eight to more than 500 knitters; Mrs. Ezra F. Parker, wife of one of our directors, serving until September, 1918; the work was taken up by Mrs. Helen Campbell, who served as chairman of knitting from Sept., 1918, until the work was discontinued in Dec., 1918. When work was resumed in Feb., 1919, Mrs. G. K. Barnes was chairman and is serving at present.

Chairman of Comfort Bags—Mrs. A. M. Beamon, Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star, chairman of comfort bags, arranged that the outgoing soldiers were supplied with bags, until the work was discontinued; later, Miss Coral Griffith was appointed to the care of the comfort bags supplies in connection with the leather vests which were made for the Aviation Corps. These ladies served jointly from April, 1917, until February, 1919.

Surgical Supplies—Mrs. Evalyn M. Tufts served as chairman from April, 1917, until August, 1918. Mrs. Tufts, a registered Red Cross nurse, had large classes, her pupils becoming teachers; Mrs. Bullard, one of them, serving from August, 1918, and working whenever a call came for surgical supplies, rendering efficient service during the influenza epidemic.

Chairman of Packing and Shipping—Mrs. Albert Stillman Chase, the first chairman serving faithfully through the heavy work, resigning when illness in the family made it necessary, the work being supervised at this time by the chairman of the chapter.

Chairman of Ambulance Pillows and Salvage—Miss Maybelle Douglass, a school teacher, served from April, 1917, until May, 1918, when the salvage work having grown so extensively, the Ambulance Pillows Department was given to Mrs. H. E. Betz, who carried on the work until pillow making was discontinued, the pillows on hand being given to local hospitals. The department was very ably assisted by John Todd, father of two soldiers, who donated the services of himself and two-ton truck, many times, for many weeks.

The shop, in connection with this work which is yielding quite an income for the Home Service Dept., is in charge of Mrs. John Boettner, who also for a number of months served weekly lunches to the public.

L. T. Rowley has been chairman of salvage since Aug., 1918, collecting, arranging and disposing of it; working constantly for the benefit of the Red Cross. He has had two sons in the service.

Chairman of Entertainments—Dr. Henry R. Harrower, appointed to find ways and means to raise funds for Red Cross work, worked with Mrs. C. B. Guthrie and Mrs. John Robert White until the Membership Drive and War Fund Drive had placed the chapter on a financial footing.

Mrs. Harry S. Duffield, secretary of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, was chairman of the tinfoil work; the children were very enthusiastic and Mrs. Duffield served from the time of her appointment until the department was joined with the Salvage in August, 1918.

Chairman of Nurses' Training Classes—Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Glendale Federation, P. T. A., 1917, was responsible to a very great degree for the successful organization of our auxiliary which was later organized into a chapter. When Mrs. Hutchinson resigned in Oct., 1918, Mrs. H. D. Thaxter was appointed. Mrs. Evalyn M. Tuft was the instructor.

Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones served as chairman of decorating from April, 1917, until October, 1918. Her duties were numerous and varied, her work making all occasions whenever a public gathering was held, a thing of beauty pleasing the eye and helping to forget the cruelties of war for the time being.

Chairman of First Aid Classes—Dr. R. E. Chase served from April, 1917, until October, 1918. Dr. Chase had the High School make 200 pairs of crutches and dozens of bedside tables. Dr. H. R. Boyer is chairman at this time, having just finished instructing a First Aid class.

Home Service Committee—Mrs. Arthur C. Brown, chairman, has been president of the Glendale P. T. A. and had long experience in philanthropic work. She was appointed in June, 1917, serving at this time and doing a wonderful work, finding employment for many soldiers, relief for families, loaning money and helping in many ways. This committee is still in active service, expecting to take care of those in need for a long time, the funds for carrying on the work to be derived largely from salvage and shop.

Hostess Committee—Mrs. R. A. Blackburn was appointed chairman of this committee, their work to greet the public coming in to help and to see the work going on in the work rooms, which were located in a large room and offices on the second floor of a building owned by Mr. Engert of Los Angeles and loaned by him to the Red Cross.

Directors—A. T. Cowan, editor of the Glendale News, was one of the directors, also Ezra F. Parker, a leading citizen and business man. Dr. C. Irving Mills, rector of St. Mark's, one of the leading factors in the organization of the Glendale Chapter of the Red Cross, was a director serving until his death some six months ago.

Junior Red Cross—Richardson D. White, Supervising Principal of the Glendale City Schools, is chairman of Junior Work, organized Jan., 1918.

This committee greatly regrets not being able to mention each person who has rendered faithful and valuable assistance to the organization.

Special Committee—Friday, Oct. 26, 1917, J. H. Braly, chairman of the chapter, entertained a dozen business men at dinner at "Ye Ginger Tavern," at which time he and Mr. McCrea presented the activities of the Chapter and the need of funds to successfully carry on the work. A committee was formed to organize and conduct a drive for funds. Mr. Braly was chairman and the following persons team captains, under whom the work was done: Messrs. Ed. M. Lee, L. W. Bosserman, C. tive offerings amounted to over $1400, a big gain. The evangelists now number 165, with many villages asking for teachers. In this quarter 124 of these evangelists were sent out into 43 villages—74 men and 50 women. Dr. Ernest Pearson and his bride, Evelyn Utter Pearson, and Miss Smith, who arrived on February 24th, proved a great addition to the working force. Chas. P. Another interesting incident mentioned is the sight of a full-grown elephant taking a bath in the river as Mr. Moon and a party were proceeding up a tributary of the Congo. They first thought it was a hippopotamus and Mr. Moon made ready to shoot it, but desisted when it was seen to be an elephant. It requires a $200 a year license to shoot the latter beast. The cry of Mr. and Mrs. Moon, the Pearsons and others is for a doctor, then more doctors.
